Documents related to the Clinton Croquet Club, later the Clinton Roque Club.

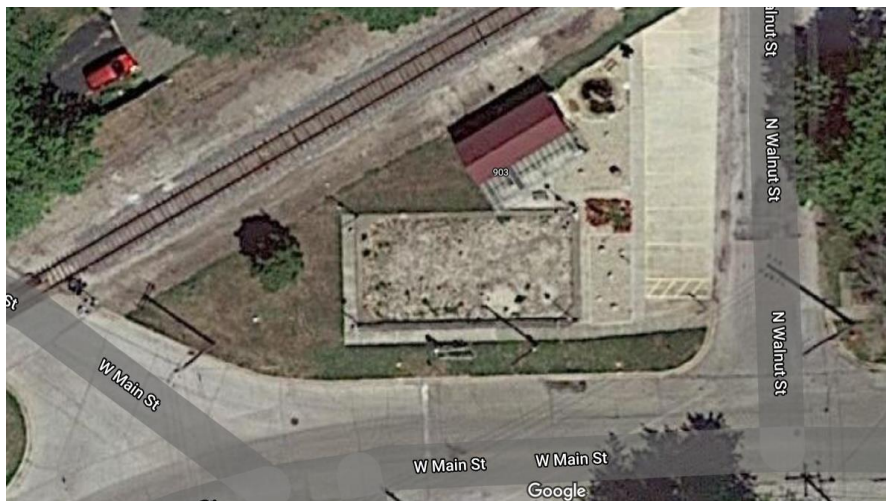

ORGANIZATIONAL HISTORY

“The Clinton Croquet Club, which became the Clinton Roque Club in 1941, was organized by some men living in the southeast part of Clinton, Illinois. Wanting to play on bare ground, they built a court at the home of Leslie Jackson, 815 West Adams Street. The wood boundary was replaced several years later with used railroad rails which permitted bank shots.

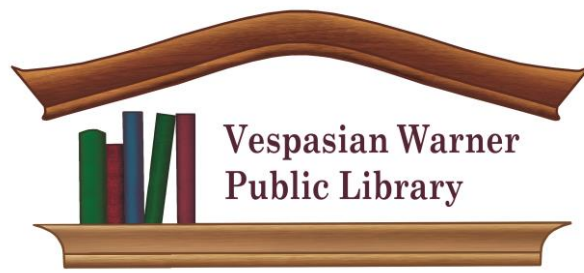

Clinton held a Labor Day Croquet Tournament each year from 1932-1982. Croquet and roque clubs throughout Central Illinois were represented. The entry fee during the early tournaments was twenty-five cents. Many players wanted to play more than one game for their quarter so double elimination was played.”

“Clinton Roque Club” Clinton 1835-1985, DeWitt County 1839-1985, 1985, pp. 55-56.

A permanent court was built on Illini Drive between N. Walnut Street and West Main Street.
